Pine Mountain Trail

Length: 2 - 2.75 miles

Highest Elevation: 1577ft

Lowest Elevation: 1277ft

Surface: woods road and footpath

Difficulty: Moderate

Parking: at Grantville Road (2 car maximum)

Nestled within over two thousand acres of protected lands, Pine Mountain is a secluded forest with South facing views in an oak glade at the summit and an extensive network of trails developed and maintained by Norfolk Land Trust. Limited parking is available at the Grantville Road trailhead at the East end of the white-blazed Billings Trail which continues for 1.5 miles to the intersection of Rte 272 and Winchester Road. The Pine Mountain trail is blazed with intermittent orange and white markers and breaks off from the Billing Trail on the right about ½ mile from the trailhead. From this point it descends to the Mad River and over a bridge, following old woods roads and over a wooden bridge. There are two loop trails here, and each ascends the mountain through a variety of forest types. It should take about an hour and a half to reach the summit and return to the trailhead but more extensive hikes are possible. In addition to a lovely walk in the woods, the trail is used at various times by trail runners, cross-county skiers and geocachers.
